

MONSTERS

	THE MONSTER OF VICTOR FRANKENSTEIN	QUASIMODO	THE ELEPHANT MAN
REAL PERSON OR CHARACTER ?	Character	Character	Real person
WHO CREATED HIM?	Mary Shelley, but in the book it is said that he was created by a scientist.	Victor Hugo	His real name is Joseph Carey Merrick and he was created by his parents.
WHEN ?	1818	1831	5 August 1862.
BOOK HE BELONGS TO	Frankenstein	The Hunchback of Notre Dame	The true story of the Elephant Man
HIS PROBLEM	Victor, the name of the monster, has the inability to understand that his actions have repercussions.	He had kyphosis, a spinal disorder that causes a person to appear to have a bump on his back.	He had the Proteus syndrome, a bizarre condition in which a mutant gene causes asymmetrical growth on body parts.
COULD HE BE HAPPY?	He was created to give love to other people but they were so afraid of him that he became bad and he couldn't be happy anymore.	At the end, he was happy because he could be with Esmeralda, the woman he had always loved.	He was was happy with his mum, but when she died, he couldn't be happy again.
HOW DID HIS LIFE END?	He killed himself because he felt bad about all the things he did.	Quasimodo is finally accepted into society by the citizens of Paris.	He died of a dislocated neck while he was sleeping.